

Bryan Findlay Ralph (1959)

It is with profound sadness that we announce the passing of our beloved husband, father, and grandfather after a lengthy illness. Bryan was diagnosed with Alzheimer's and Parkinson's in 2012 but was able to continue living a meaningful life with the help of the Alzheimer's Society, his family, and a part-time private caregiver before entering residential care at Evergreen House three years ago.

Bryan was born in Victoria January 25, 1941, lived and completed his education there until he moved to Vancouver in 1965 to enter Law School at UBC. Subsequently, he made his home in Deep Cove, North Vancouver where he and Barbara raised their family, enjoying activities on the water and in the mountains.

Bryan was called to the Bar in 1968, and received his LLB (Masters of Law) from the London School of Economics in 1976. During his career as a lawyer he was the Executive Director of the Legal Services Society of BC, a professor of law and the director of UBC legal clinic, and the Secretary of the Law Society. He was awarded a Q.C. (Queen's Counsel) in 1993, and was appointed a judge to the Supreme Court of BC in 1997.

Bryan leaves behind his loving wife Barbara; daughters Sara (David) and Alison (Tim); grandchildren Jay, Macy, Kai and Rowan; sister Sharon (Jerry); nieces Shannon and Kristina; and nephew Jason.
