After hearing recorded loving expressions from her loving son Greg, her wonderful niece Lynn and her dearest friend Ann, some time later, on the 30th of January 2023, at Trillium Douglas Care, she died peacefully.

She was predeceased by her husband Eugene Creelman and her brother Floyd Stanley and will be missed and remembered by her son Greg and his wife Nancy, by her grandchildren, Christine and her spouse William, Michael, Kathryn and her spouse Conner, and her great-grandchild Elsie Margaret Jane, and by her many nieces, nephews and cousins in the Stanley and Creelman families.

The association and memory of an exceptional person will remain as a special relationship with her second husband, Cecil Clark, who she married in 2020.
