

PARKER, Patricia (nee Whiting) (1951)

14 February 1933 - 12 May 2023

"I chose my own path, I did the best I could with what I had, and I died the way I wanted. I had a very successful life and I couldn't have asked for anything else," wrote Patricia for this purpose.

Pre-deceased by parents Joyce (Crichton) and Ted Whiting, sisters Donna and Eileen, and husbands Rainald Thomas and Arthur Parker. Survived by a much-loved family: daughters Bobbinette (Stuart) and Lia, stepson Ross (Chris), grandchildren Devon (Adam), Hali (Grant), Abby, and Anthony, nieces Allison, Laura, and Karen, and nephews Mark and Cary. Nephew Hadyn was her especially close friend and confidant. She enjoyed a total of six grandchildren, five great grandchildren, and three great-great grandchildren, many cherished friends, neighbours, and fellow adventure-seekers."

Tricia enjoyed a varied career culminating as a realtor and was a long-time volunteer at Goward House. She was a lover of literature, opera, and playing bridge.
