

John Albert Davis (1958)

John passed away at Mount St. Mary's on May 4, 2026.

Predeceased by his father, Noel Davis and his mother, Isabella (Bella) Davis. Survived by his sweetie Heather Kochems, Heather's brother Richard (Florence and son Christopher) of Nanaimo B.C., two nieces - Phyllis Taylor of Comox, B.C., and Marjie (Jim) Baker of Newton, Iowa.

John spent most of his life working as a mechanic, dedicating almost 30 years to Metro Toyota. It was work he took pride in and stuck with for the long haul. Outside of work, John had two great passions that stayed with him throughout his teenage years and well into his later life: remote-controlled airplanes and motorcycles. He could spend hours carefully building and flying his RC planes, fully absorbed in the craft. And when it came to motorcycles, John loved everything about them - fixing them up, getting them running just right, and taking them out for a ride.
