

Wendy Eng (nee Der) (1960)

July 15, 1942 - May 17, 2026

Wendy was predeceased by her son Christopher, her mother, and many aunts and uncles. She is survived by her daughters Janelle (Russell), Denise (Amy), and Kathy (Connie), as well as her beloved grandchildren Ben and Abi.

Wendy was known for her warm and friendly manner, always making people smile, laugh, and feel at ease. As a pharmacist, she was a second mother to her clients and colleagues alike. In retirement, she carried that same spirit into her dragon boat team and festival volunteer work, and was a regular at coffee chats with friends and family at Granville Island and around the city. She made friends wherever she went, and left a lasting impression on everyone she met.

The world is a little quieter without Wendy in it, but a little warmer for having had her. She lived as she loved — generously, joyfully, and without reservation. Her memory will forever be a gift to all who knew her.

Published on May 22, 2026 in The Vancouver Sun & The Province